

Privacy Policy

This website is provided by Bates Exterminating

Bates Exterminating recognizes the importance of protecting the privacy of personal and financial information. We have instituted strict policies and security measures to protect information we may collect from you. When you register online with Bates Exterminating or use our online bill paying or credit card provisions, you give us your consent to process and use your personal data in accordance with this online Privacy Policy. This Privacy Policy applies to all users of this Bates Exterminating website.

What Information Bates Exterminating Collects

Bates Exterminating collects personal information from visitors to the website who voluntarily submit their information when registering on the website or using the online store. We also collect non-personally identifying information such as IP addresses, and we use cookies (see more below) so we can improve our services and enhance your Bates Exterminating experience. Bates Exterminating does not collect personally identifiable information from anyone that it knows is under the age of eighteen. If you are under eighteen, please ask your parents to register and/or use the online store. Please do not submit any personal details if you are under eighteen years of age.

How Bates Exterminating Uses Information You Provide

If you give us your personal information, we may use this information to register you with our website, to administer our website services, and/or to process any orders you may place online. We will send you announcements or communications by e-mail only if you give us your permission to do so. You may opt out of receiving such communications by visiting our website and following the appropriate instructions. Otherwise, we use your information only to review our performance and to improve our services to you, or to communicate with you about your order if you have placed an online order.

Does Bates Exterminating Share Your Information With Others?

Bates Exterminating does not sell, rent or disclose our client's names, addresses, e-mail addresses or other personal information to any non-Bates Exterminating entity. Bates Exterminating may share client information within the Bates Exterminating organization, including other commonly-owned brands, so that you may be informed of other products that may be of interest to you. Further, in order to maintain our website and provide our client communications, Bates Exterminating contracts with selected third parties. As necessary, your personal information may be processed by these third parties, solely for the purpose of assisting Bates Exterminating in these endeavors and subject to strict contractual confidentiality obligations. We do not otherwise disclose your information to third parties, unless required by law or in connection with a legal claim or proceeding. If Bates Exterminating is acquired by or merges with another entity, information about Bates Exterminating clients and website users may be made available to that other entity.

Security

Bates Exterminating uses appropriate security measures to protect the information you give us. However, while we take all reasonable steps to protect your personal information, you accept that no Internet data transmission can be guaranteed to be secure from access by unintended recipients and agree that Bates Exterminating is not responsible for any breach of security unless this is due to our negligence.

About

Cookies

Cookies are small text files a web server can send through your computer's browser to your company's hard drive to assist with record-keeping purposes. We use cookies to ascertain which web pages are visited and how often, to make our web site more user friendly, and to give you a better experience when you return to the website. For example, cookies allow us to save your password so you do not have to re-enter it every time you visit our site. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you do not have to accept them. To disable cookies, you should access the "help" tab on your browser or read the information that came with your browser software. However, your visit to our website will be significantly enhanced if cookies are not disabled.

Acceptance of Privacy Policy and Modifications

By accessing and using the Bates Exterminating website, you consent to our collection, use and disclosure of your personal and non-personally identifying information as described in this Privacy Policy. Bates Exterminating reserves the right occasionally to make changes to its Privacy Policy or practices from time to time. You should therefore review this webpage occasionally and at least each time you use the online shop to get updated information. We will notify you of any changes in our Privacy Policy by posting the modifications on our website. Your continued use of this website following the posting of any amendment, modification or change shall constitute your acceptance thereof.
